

'Whitsunday Moon' is named for the beautiful sight of the moon rising above the islands of the Whitsunday Passage in Queensland, Australia.

The music is built around two themes composed by my student Richard Madigan at St Ignatius' College, Riverview, in Sydney.

The instrumentation is flexible and piano or other keyboard instrument can accompany recorders, flutes, or a mixture of woodwind instruments.

Ann Carr-Boyd
September 1987